

LID LIFTED BY JUDGE WILLARD

Sweeping Decision in Minnesota Liquor Case.

SUIT COMES FROM BEMIDJI

Federal Court Issues Restraining Order Prohibiting Interference With Liquor Traffic on Grounds That Regulation Belongs to the State—Saloons May All Reopen.

Minneapolis, Jan. 10.—An injunction restraining W. E. ("Pussyfoot") Johnson, special agent of the bureau of Indian affairs, from interfering with the liquor traffic under the provisions of the Indian cession treaty of 1855, was issued by Judge Willard of the United States circuit court.

The reasons given for the decision are sweeping in their character. If the decision holds there will be no more of the "federal Indian liquor lid" in Minnesota outside of the limits of the actual Indian reservations.

The Indian treaties having anti-liquor clauses cover nine-tenths of the state. According to the contentions of the government in this suit the federal authorities have the right to prohibit liquor absolutely from any and all portions of this vast territory.

According to Judge Willard's decision all of these anti-liquor clauses are void and of no effect.

The suit on which the decision was rendered was instituted by twelve saloon proprietors of Bemidji against Johnson and two of his deputies, T. E. Brentz and H. F. Coggeshall.

Appeal Can Be Taken.

Charles C. Hought, federal district attorney for Minnesota, who handled the case on behalf of the government, was asked whether an appeal from Judge Willard's decision would be taken to the United States supreme court. "I don't know what will be done," he replied. "I must hear from the attorney general."

In the meantime the saloons may open throughout all that vast stretch of land covered by the treaty of 1855. It is here that "Pussyfoot" Johnson and his men have been driving all liquor manufacturers and dealers out of business. The federal agents cannot interfere, for they are under a judicial restraining order. Furthermore, railroads and express companies may resume the shipping of liquor to that district. This traffic has been stopped for many weeks.

Judge Willard holds that the admission of Minnesota to statehood gave the state the power of regulating the liquor traffic and repealed the anti-liquor clauses of the Indian land cession treaties. He points to the fact that only a year ago was any attempt made to enforce them since the state was admitted. For about a half a century before that the control of the liquor traffic, outside of the Indian reservations themselves, was left to the state.

Indian Agent Johnson arrived in Minneapolis just in time to get first news of the court decision. At his rooms in the West hotel he appeared cheerful but surprised, as neither side expected so sweeping a decision.

"Placed in my position there is really nothing for me to say," he remarked. "In view of the decision of the court I should say the attorney general is the only federal representative from whom comment should be expected. As for myself, I am not going to say a word."

BIG DAMAGES FOR INJURY

Switchman's Suit Settled by Payment of $17,500.

St. Paul, Jan. 10.—What is considered the largest settlement ever made in a personal injury case in the Ramsey county court was filed in the action brought by Carlton F. Stetson against the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad company. The settlement was for $17,500. The action was brought by Stetson's father to recover $25,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained by his son while working as a switchman at Milwaukee.

The youth's back was broken and he lay for weeks upon a board. The trial of the case during the November term of court resulted in a disagreement. The attorneys stipulated the settlement and the case was dismissed.

Former St. Paul Jurist Dead.

St. Paul, Jan. 10.—Former Judge James J. Egan, one of St. Paul's earliest settlers, died at St. Joseph's hospital. He had been in failing health for some years, but only during the last four weeks was he confined to the hospital. James J. Egan came to St. Paul from New York in 1857. He was then but a boy. On the outbreak of the Sioux Indians he was one of those who took up arms in defense of the white settlements and was one of the very few survivors of the battle of Birch Coulee. He also served in the Civil war as a lieutenant in the First Minnesota heavy artillery.

FIGHT AGAINST RULES REFORM

Democrats Rally to Support of the Speaker.

LIVELY TIME IN THE HOUSE

Fuller Resolution to Correct a Defect in the Committee Discharge Amendment to the Rules Precipitates Stirring Debate, at the Conclusion of Which Speaker Cannon Was Sustained.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The truth of several wise old saws was demonstrated in the house of representatives. It makes a lot of difference whose ox is gored, is one of them. There are others that might be mentioned with equal appropriateness. In a nutshell, this is what happened: The Democrats of the house last March voted to overrule a decision of Speaker Cannon that the now famous Norris resolution, the introduction of which was followed by three days of riot and excitement, was not in order. At that time the Democrats, accustomed to the shackles of the minority party, hardly hopeful of success in November, denounced the speaker as a tyrant. His decision that the Norris resolution was out of order was held up as a sample of his arbitrary, tyrannical, czarlike method. But the rejuvenated Democracy of the house, still a minority, but looking forward to next majority when they will become a majority, turned a flip. Speaker Cannon had been right all along. The minority leaders not only admitted this, they proclaimed it. They fought bitterly to prevent a rules reform, absolutely similar in every respect to that which they so triumphantly accomplished last March, from being considered. They pleaded with the speaker not to pay any attention to the precedent established by Democratic votes when his decision on the Norris resolution was overruled. That, they pointed out almost tearfully, wasn't a precedent anyhow. It was a revolution, and revolutions don't count.

Row Lasts Three Hours.

For three hours there was the finest kind of a row on this troublesome subject of the rules. Before it was over the regular Republicans were hugging themselves with delight, the progressives wallowed in gloom and the Democrats were slamming charges of ignorance and dishonesty back and forth among themselves.

The motive of the Democrats leaders in opposing the Fuller resolution, a simple little thing intended to correct a defect in the committee discharge amendment to the rules, was so transparent to be laughable. Even the most prominent nonpartisanism in the house could see that if the precedent of last March, established then by a majority vote, were backed up by a decision from the chair it would mean all sorts of trouble ahead for the Democratic organization when it gets control of the house in the Sixty-second congress. And it was extremely amusing to those regular Republicans who stood steadfast during the stress and strain of the three days' fight of last March to watch all the Democratic leaders face about in their tracks and attempt to convince their colleagues they were still looking in the same direction.

At the conclusion of hostilities the Republican progressives unofficially decided they had been outraged and betrayed by their late Democratic allies.

This is the proper time to say that when the ruction was over, Speaker Cannon's ruling—absolutely similar in every respect to his ruling on the Norris resolution, which was overruled—was sustained by a vote of 222 to 53.

GRAFT SUITS NEARING END

Pennsylvania Capitol Scandal to Be Closed Without Trial.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 10.—Final action will be taken at once in the capitol graft suits. A decree completing settlement without trial will be made by Judge Kunkel.

The basis of the settlement is said to be the turning over to the state of $1,300,000 in cash and almost $200,000 in warrants. William P. Snyder, auditor general, and James H. Shupmaker, former superintendent of public grounds, are in jail and John H. Sanderson, the capitol contractor, and William L. Mathews, former state treasurer, died before their appeals were decided.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 10.—By a majority of 323 the city of Helena, at a special election, authorized a bond issue of $650,000 with which to install a municipal water plant, no satisfactory agreement having been reached respecting the purchase of the present property, which is owned chiefly by Boston men.

TWIN CITY MAN FOUND DEAD

Heart Disease Fatal to Former Minnesotan.

Lewistown, Mont., Jan. 10.—Gus Smith, connected with the Judith Valley Flour Mill company, and formerly circulation manager of the Minneapolis Tribune, was found dead on the outskirts of Lewistown. Death was due to heart disease, although at first it was believed that Smith had frozen to death, as his body was rigid and frozen when found.

Smith had planned to invest about $10,000 in the Judith company and apparently was overtaken by death while walking up Spring creek with the object of inspecting a dam which the company owned.

TO ELECT SENATORS BY DIRECT VOTE

Senate Judiciary Committee Agrees on Resolution.

Washington, Jan. 10.—At a meeting of the senate committee on the judiciary, a decision was reached to report favorably the subcommittee resolution authorizing an amendment to the Constitution to provide for the election of United States senators by direct vote.

The debate in the committee turned upon the question as to whether the state or the federal government should supervise the elections. The subcommittee's provision directs "that the times, place and manner of holding elections shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof."

Senators Depew and Nelson both offered amendments giving congress the power to regulate, but the Southern senators opposed these provisions as most prejudicial to the interests of their constituents, some of them going so far as to assert the measure would be more obnoxious than the Force bill of the early nineties, which caused one of the most famous of the senate fights.

The two amendments were similar, but Mr. Depew's went farther than Mr. Nelson's in the matter of prescribing the qualifications of electors. Both were voted down, 8 to 3. The favorable votes were cast by Senators Depew, Nelson and Dillingham.

Senator Borah, who favored the subcommittee's recommendation, will submit the committee's report as soon as he can prepare a statement in its support.

While greatly encouraged over the progress made, the advocates of the change are by no means sanguine of immediate success. There is strong opposition in the senate and there will be little difficulty in preventing action during the present session.

MOTHER AND SON FROZEN

Lost Their Way in Storm While Going From Barn to House.

North Portal, Sask., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Samuel Turner and her twelve-year-old son John were frozen to death in the shadow of their house, six miles west of here. From pails and a lantern found near the bodies it is believed they were returning from the stable and lost their way in the storm. Two younger children were found alone and starving in the house by Mrs. Turner's brother.

Man Found Frozen.

Harvey, N. D., Jan. 10.—Dead so long that his body was frozen, Jacob Olschlager, a single man who lived alone on his farm, fifteen miles southwest of this city, was found by neighbors who had become aroused after not seeing a stir about his home for several days. The coroner was at once summoned from McCluskey, and a post-mortem examination revealed the fact the deceased came to his death from an attack of acute appendicitis.

CONSERVATION BILLS AROUND

Irrigation and the Disposal of Public Land Urged.

SELECTION OF COMMITTEES.

Senator Nelson Says Seniority Is the Only Plan That Will Work—Argentina Celebrates One Hundredth Birthday and Shows It Is on the Map. Wilson Wins Appropriation.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 9.—[Special.]—There is no lack of bills for the regulation of public lands, irrigation and water power sites upon which congress can work if it should be found desirable to take up the president's recommendations regarding different phases of conservation.

Nearly all the men from states where irrigation and the disposal of public lands are vital questions have offered bills relating to these questions. There are so many different ideas on the subject that it is doubtful whether they can be crystallized into a measure which will pass in the short session when there is such a press of other business.

Must Be by Seniority.

Senator Nelson of Minnesota had six years' seniority in the house before he became governor of his state, and he has been elected three times to the senate.

"If the house adopts the plan of selection of committees by a committee," he said, "no other method than that of seniority will be found feasible. In the senate a man's seniority is rigidly observed. Once on a committee he cannot be removed or superseded without his own consent."

Sometimes, however, a senator will "listen to reason" when it is found desirable to have him give up a chairmanship or a committee place. Charles Sumner was ruthlessly removed from the chairmanship of foreign relations because of supposed differences with President Grant, but in reality on account of a remark he made about Grant to a gathering of diplomats.

Not many years ago John H. Mitchell of Oregon was in line for chairman of the committee on intercommerce canals. He was for the Nicaragua route, and the senate favored Panama. After much deliberation and when Mitchell steadfastly refused to get out of the way he was allowed to take the chairmanship, but the committee was packed against him.

Outgrown Lawlessness.

For years the citizens of Oklahoma have been endeavoring to correct the impression that became so widespread as to be damaging that Oklahoma was a lawless region. That reputation was gained during a period when Oklahoma was Indian Territory and the resort for desperadoes who gloried in crime and wild life. But the day of the "bad man" passed long ago in Oklahoma just as it did in every other newly developed country.

"Every dog has his day," and no new country is without its "bad men." Oklahoma citizens are rather sensitive on the subject, and they still think it necessary in frequent interviews to deny that the state is the resort of ruffians and criminals. Oklahoma with its immense output of agricultural products and minerals and its marvelous development need no longer be concerned over old tales.

Argentina on the Map.

Long ago we of this country came to the conclusion that the United States was America. In fact, we are the Americans when abroad; there are American embassies, American consulates and everything else from the United States is American. The people of all other countries on this hemisphere have acquiesced in our assumption, so it is well.

And yet it is worth while to recollect that Argentina, in South America, is really on the map and is a most progressive country. A consular report shows that Argentina has recently celebrated its hundredth anniversary. To commemorate the event many important and patriotic things have been done. Great parks have been made, schools have been established, historical books published, monuments erected to great men and heroes, centenary expositions have been held, and, in fact, Argentina has really done more on this occasion than did the United States at the Centennial of 1876. Argentina is sometimes called the United States of South America on account of its progress.

"Tama Jim" Wins.

"Tama Jim," as the secretary of agriculture is called because he lives at Tama, Ia., has had a complete vindication by the committee which has been investigating the expenditures of the agricultural department. While it is true that the appropriations for this department have increased year by year, there is no doubt in the minds of members of congress that the money is well spent.

The best evidence that this is a great agricultural country is proved in the manner in which efforts are made to better the condition of the farmer and the expenditure of money for his benefit. The rural communities are coming into their own these days, and the tendency will be in that direction in the future.

GIVING UP THE STRUGGLE

Mexican Rebels Surrender to Federal Troops.

Mexico City, Jan. 10.—Seventy-three of the rebels who figured in the taking of Batopilas have surrendered and made public declarations of their desire to return to their peaceful occupations. They turned over 45 carbines, 22 pistols, 2 swords and 400 cartridges.

Apollonio Rodriguez, the leader of the men, surrendered $1,300 in money. The prisoners, with the exception of Rodriguez and three other leaders, were given their liberty. The first news direct from Guerrero, which has been recaptured by the federales, indicated that a number of government representatives were put to death by the revolutionists, among them the chief of police, German Espejo, and the postmaster, Manuel Patino Suarez. Four citizens are said to have met a similar fate.

BELIEVES IN CANADA STANDING ALONE

Dominion Official Discusses Effect of Reciprocity.

Montreal, Jan. 10.—Trade agreements may take down the bars and turn Canada's natural resources over to the United States. The best way to continue good relations between the two countries is for each to stand alone and avoid agreements that may end in disputes.

Such was the opinion expressed at the weekly luncheon of the Canadian club by Clifford Sifton, chairman of the Dominion conservation commission and a former member of the Laurier government. His audience was composed of the leading bankers and business men of Montreal, senators and members of parliament, and they cheered the sentiment to the echo. Mr. Sifton was careful to state that his views on reciprocity were his own, quite apart from political affiliations and possibly out of harmony with the views of many of both great parties.

"It would be altogether apart from my duty to discuss the political or national aspects of this question," he said, "but perhaps you will pardon me if I express my own conviction. It is this: If we enter upon trade relations of an extensive character with the United States, and in the most favorable anticipations which can be entertained turn out to be well founded and our friends south of the line use us well and give us nearly everything we ask for, what is the inevitable conclusion? Must not our trade and business and very life become mixed with theirs, so that we shall become increasingly dependent upon them with the ultimate end of political union?"

IOWA LEGISLATURE MEETS

Resolution Offered for Committee on Committees.

Des Moines, Jan. 10.—Organization of the houses of the Iowa legislature was effected by the Republicans without contest, but immediately after the election of Speaker Paul E. Skilleman of Greene county the Democrats offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee on committees, which was laid over, but whose adoption by a combination of standpatters and Democrats will not surprise politicians.

Representative Dabney of Davis county, the home of Governor Carroll, offered the resolution. It is commonly believed that an understanding exists between the Democrats and the standpatters under which the latter will aid the Democrats in respect to the control of committees in return for Democratic support for a bill for a special primary for the selection of a Republican nominee for United States senator.

This bill Representative Harding of Woodbury county is perfecting with the intention of introducing it within a few days to prevent a legislative election of a United States senator.

GRANTS STAY OF TEN DAYS

BENCH DISTRICTS AN ISSUE

North Dakota Readjustment of Limits Offers Problems.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 10.—There promises to be a number of difficult complications in the question of creating new judicial districts, as a result of the provision of the constitution of the state making it impossible to increase the number of districts oftener than once in four years.

Four years ago the legislature assembly passed bills creating the Ninth and Tenth judicial districts and to the Ninth district thus created Governor Burke named Judge Burr of Rugby. Some time after the appointment there was an action which resulted in a decision by the supreme court that the bills would not become effective until Jan. 1, 1909. Thus the place held by the appointive judges became vacant and the districts were not created until two years after the enactment of the acts in question.

A point arising in connection with a proposed redistricting of the judiciary at this time is whether or not the four-year period in which the number of districts could be changed was inaugurated with the passage of the act of 1907, or with the election of the judges for the term beginning Jan. 1, 1909.

FIXES BLAME FOR WRECK

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict in Iowa Accident.

Marshalltown, Ia., Jan. 10.—Holding an engineer and the Chicago and Northwestern railroad criminally negligent and the trainmen negligent, the coroner's jury returned a sweeping verdict following the investigation of the Northwestern freight wreck of last Wednesday near State Center, when a trainman and one other person was killed.

Engineer Charles J. Moorhouse of Boone, who ran his train into the rear of another freight, is held criminally negligent for disregarding the "block" signals.

The Northwestern is declared criminally negligent for operating trains so close together without warning train crews of the fact and for employing incompetent train and engine men.

Conductor C. Thomas of Clinton was held to be negligent for not properly protecting the rear of his train. He was in charge of the first freight. The jury recommended that the county attorney lay the facts before the grand jury for investigation as to the propriety of bringing indictments.

EXPLOSION AT PEMBINA

One Man Dies of Injuries and City's Light Plant Is Damaged.

Pembina, N. D., Jan. 10.—Thrown several feet against a building by the force of the explosion of a tank of the city's acetylene gas plant, Thomas Lund died from his injuries. William Hart, who was working by his side escaped uninjured. The damage to the plant amounts to $1,000.

The city had been without carbide for two days and the men were repairing the machinery, using a gasoline torch for soldering, when the explosion occurred. The tank was disconnected and was supposed to have been free of gas. Lund leaves a wife and three small children. His remains will be taken to Nepeanee, Ont., for burial.

Federal Judge Declines to Quash Indictments.

PACKERS MUST STAND TRIAL

Efforts of Indicted Men to Escape Criminal Prosecution on Ground That Government Will Proceed by Injunction Fails—Judge Carpenter Allows Time to Enter Further Motions.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—The efforts of the indicted Chicago meat packers to have criminal prosecution against them nullified on the ground that the government has elected to proceed by injunction and the only course open is to cite them for contempt of court, came to nothing when Judge George A. Carpenter of the United States district court, denied the motion of the packers and ordered a stay of ten days in which to enter further motions before pleading to the indictments.

Unless other preliminary motions are interposed within the next ten days the effect of Judge Carpenter's ruling will be the immediate arraignment of the packers, who are under criminal indictment for alleged violation of section 2 of the Sherman anti-trust act, which makes every conspiracy or attempt to monopolize any part of the trade or commerce among the states or foreign nations a misdemeanor punishable by fine and imprisonment.

As soon as it became known in Washington that the federal court had shattered the "immunity" plea of the packers orders were sent to the government lawyers to meet there as soon as possible for a conference.

History of the Case.

The government filed a bill in equity in the United States district court for the Northern district of Illinois in 1902 against twenty-six meat packers, charging a combination to restrain competition in violation of the Sherman act. The case came first before K. M. Landis, who, having been attorney for several of the packers before taking his seat on the federal bench, was disqualified, and the case was heard by Judge Peter Grosscup.

The injunction was granted and made permanent and on appeal to the United States supreme court affirmed. Two years later the National Packing company, a holding concern, was organized to take over the stock of numerous independent packing companies and issue its own stock in return. Injunction proceedings were brought against the National Packing company and were pending at the time the indictments were filed against the individual packers. These injunction proceedings have since been withdrawn.

Last July the federal grand jury returned true bills against Louis F. Swift, Edward F. Swift, Charles H. Swift, Frank A. Fowler and Edward Tilden, of Swift & Co.; J. Ogden Armour, Arthur Meeker and Thomas J. Connors, of the Armour Packing company, and Edward Morris and Louis H. Heyman, of Morris & Co. The indictments alleged violations of the Sherman act subsequent to the Grosscup injunction and were in line with the government's policy to attack wrongdoers individually as well as corporately.

TO EDUCATE INDIAN WIFE.

Nez Perce Takes His Bride to the Carlisle School.

With his bride of nineteen, whom he will take back with him from the Nez Perce reservation to the Carlisle Indian school, Joseph Hooler, a full blooded Nez Perce Indian, left Boise, Ida., recently to outfit himself and his bride for the trip. Hooler has been in the preparatory department of the school for some time.

The girl cost Hooler forty acres of fine land in the northern part of the state, not exactly as a price for the land, but as compensation to the girl's father for depriving his wife of the only able-bodied woman, a loss which is severe to the ordinary Indian.

Hooler speaks good English and was not backward in discussing the case.

"We were married a month ago," he said, "and now we are going back to school. My wife has never had any schooling, but I have had three years altogether, some in Haskell and some in Carlisle.

"I gave her father the land simply because he needed it for support and because my wife was the only able-bodied woman in his family. Her mother is sickly and the other children are too young.

"We will spend the next three or four years together studying. If not at Carlisle then at some other school, for we have money to pay for schooling. My wife is very anxious to learn, and I want her to. She speaks English somewhat, though as yet very imperfectly.

"We have known each other for the last fifteen years, ever since we were small children. I have been getting together money enough during the last ten years so that we are now able to marry and be assured of at least a good living.

The Domesticated College Girl.

In what other country would you find a college educated woman doing all of her housework, including washing and ironing, and then turning from presiding over the wash tub to go into the parlor to help one child in its practice of a difficult passage of Beethoven or Chopin or who, after ten hours of cooking and cleaning, sits down to tutor her boys in Latin and Greek for their college preparation? Yet this is no sporadic instance, but a type of wide representation, particularly throughout the west.—Mrs. Busbey's
"Home Life in America."

Protection Spectacles.

Spectacles to aid imperfect sight have, it appears, been in use for more than 600 years, but spectacles merely as a "protection" to the eyes are of much more ancient date. Snow spectacles are worn by the Eskimos, who could not tell you who invented them, and in all arctic countries not only men and women wear spectacles, but also animals. Farmers who are careful about their cattle will provide both cows and horses with spectacles to protect the eyes from the glare of the glittering snow. The spectacles worn by Laps and Eskimos are not made of glass, but of very thin bone or whalebone, through which it is possible to see clearly enough for purposes of travel or sport.

Names in Samoa.

Travelers visiting Samoa are puzzled at first by the fact that many boys bear feminine names, while girls as frequently have masculine names. The visitor learns after awhile, however, that this confusing use of names instead of being due to ignorance is in reality the result of a native custom which is highly poetic. Thus if a girl is born soon after the death of a brother the latter's name is given to her in the belief that his spirit and all his good qualities have been transferred to her. On the other hand, if a boy is born after the death of a sister he takes the latter's name and, as the Samoans believe, all her lovely traits become his.—London Globe.

DAMAGE CLAIMED BY LID ORDER

Estimated Loss Sustained by the Liquor Interests of the City
Totals Over $30,000

DAZED WHEN LID FLIES OFF

Reopening News Causes Surprise—
All Saloons Will Open Up
Again Quietly

The Brainerd Dispatch was the first to receive the news of Judge Willard's lid decision which was rendered at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

An examination of the records of the city clerk shows that 26 saloon keepers of the city are doing business.

Interviewing the different saloon men, as well as the Coates Liquor Co. and the Brainerd Brewing Co., the total actual loss to these business interests is placed by them at $30,000. The saloons estimate their loss at $1,000 each and the Coates Liquor Co. and the Brainerd Brewing Co., at $2,000 each.

The loss includes trade lost by closing, injury sustained to their business, loss occasioned by express and freight shipments, damages to business connected with saloons, as hotels which ran bars, etc.

All saloons will re-open. The decision of Judge Willard based on the broad question of states' rights, is the outcome expected.

It has not been decided if any suits or actions will be commenced by the local liquor interests. A meeting will be held to determine their action in this regard.

DEERWOOD PIONEER DIES

R. H. Morford, Who Located in That Town in the Early Eighties, Passes Peacefully Away

The Deerwood Enterprise brings the news of the death of one of the pioneer citizens of that town, and a man whose sterling qualities were recognized by a large circle of friends in his home town as well as in this city and Duluth.

His death was due to the infirmities of old age, and his serious illness, which preceded his death, was of but two days duration.

Mr. Morford's early home was in Newton, Sussex county, N. J., where he was born and spent his boyhood days. He followed the banking business for many years and was interested in New York and later on in Chicago. At the time the Northern Pacific road was started he was general agent with headquarters at Duluth and had charge of receiving and distributing the supplies along the line. He was later on in the employ of the road in the office of the auditor of passenger receipts.

Mr. Morford has held many positions of trust since he came to Deerwood in an early day and has seen the town grow from a simple railway siding to one of the most promising towns in Northern Minnesota. He was for many years postmaster of Deerwood and his office was one of those that was considered practically correct by the department. He was eccentric in his manner and methodical in his business affairs, strictly honest and honorable in his dealings with his fellow men and the community will miss him.

He leaves a daughter, Minnie A. Morford and a stepson, Cuyler Adams, both residents of Deerwood. The remains will be taken to Duluth for burial beside those of his wife, whose death occurred some four years ago.

New Law Partnership

Mr. Wieland is a graduate of the law department of the University of Minnesota and was admitted to the bar last June. Since that time he has studied law in the law office of A. D. Polk.

In a short interview R. K. Whiteley, the city engineer, referred to the street improvements of 1910 and those contemplated for this year.

"The street improvements of 1910 were much in advance of those of 1909. More curbing and paving were done than in any previous year."

"Nearly the whole of the second ward is planned to be curbed and paved this year as shown by the assessment rolls for these improvements now on file. Six blocks of Fifth street are to be laid in cement, also possibly Seventh street. Seven blocks of Third avenue in Northeast Brainerd, are also to be paved with cement. On Seventh street one block of cement is to be laid from Maple to Norwood and possibly may be extended to Oak street.

ARCTIC BROTHERHOOD

J. A. Bachelder, Cashier of Citizens State Bank, Only Member of Order in City

J. A. Bachelder, cashier of the Citizens State bank, enjoys the unique distinction of being the only member of the Arctic Brotherhood in Brainerd. Mr. Bachelder spent several years in Nome engaged in the banking business and while there he joined Nome Camp No. 9.

The Arctic Brotherhood is composed of residents or men sojourning in the northern territory of Alaska. Miners predominate among the large membership. The order is purely a fraternal one with dues at $5 a quarter, payable only when one resides in Alaska. Camp No. 1 is at Skaguay and Camp No. 3 at Dawson. Nome Camp has a membership of over 3,000, owning its large hall, theatre and club rooms.

The order originated in 1900 on board a ship on its way from Seattle to Skaguay. The idea met with instant favor and its plan and ritual appealed to all Alaskans. Among its distinguished members is every prominent person who visited Alaska since the institution of the order, including Congressman Sulzer of New York, who owns large interests in the territory; Rex Beach, the writer of the "Spoilers" and the "Silver Horde"; Gov. Clark who joined in the boom days of Nome camp while a newspaper correspondent and before he ever thought of being governor of the territory; the Governor-General of Canada and many other noted persons.

The emblem of the brotherhood bears the design of the letters A. B. and a gold pan containing nuggets. Larger emblems bear a pick and shovel instead of the gold pan.

TAKES ISSUE WITH SCHAEFER

Treasurer M. T. Dunn, of the State Fair Board, Speaks About Public Examiner's Report

In a short interview with M. T. Dunn, treasurer of the Minnesota State Fair Board, regarding the grilling of the board by Public Examiner Schaefer, he said:

"Public Examiner A. Schaefer criticizes the State Fair Board's method of bookkeeping, calling it primitive." "Well, Mr. Schaefer originated for us the very system which he now so fiercely assails."

Mr. Dunn left last night for the twin cities to attend a meeting of the fair board. It is probable that the board will adopt new policies in regard to admission on the grounds. These policies will not be inspired by anything Mr. Schaefer may have suggested, but will be taken on the board's own initiative.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW GAIN

Receipts From the Sale of Stamps and Stamped Paper Show a Decided Gain for December

PARK BOARD'S SKATING RINK

Gregory Park to Have Half a Mile Ice Track Around it, Ten Feet in Width

COMMENCE WORK THIS WEEK

Chairman of Park Board S. R. Adair Outlines Park Improvement Program for 1911

The park board will this week introduce an innovation which will appeal to all the children and the grown-ups too—a park board ice skating rink at Gregory park. The plans contemplate the building and freezing of an ice track one half a mile in length and ten feet in width which will follow the bicycle track around the square.

St. Hall's street sprinkler and snow plow will be used this week to prepare and maintain the track and the cost of this amusement feature is expected to total not more than $25. The children will get over a hundred times as much value in innocent fun from this feature. Parents will welcome this because it is safe and there is no possible chance for youngsters to drown. The river, with its half concealed air holes, is always treacherous and each year generally takes its toll of victims. All these dangers are eliminated in the park board skating rink. A patch will also be prepared in the southeast corner of the park to be used by beginners and slow or fancy skaters.

The idea of the rink originated with the chairman of the Park board, S. R. Adair, ably seconded by his colleague Jens Molstad and the project is eagerly endorsed by all the skaters of the city.

In speaking of improvements contemplated by the board for the coming season of 1911 Mr. Adair said: "Gregory park is now completed with the exception of a little shrubbery. We shall soon start on Lam park by leveling the grounds, clearing out underbrush, arranging the grounds and building a dock. The board has examined the preliminary sketches as submitted by the designer, Frank L. Nutter, of Minneapolis and returned them to him yesterday. His complete park improvement plans will be prepared and submitted to the board within a short time."

"The Sixth street park, as it is called, situated on the corner of Oak and South Sixth streets, is to be leveled up, graded with black dirt, sodded, and planted with trees. As many south siders are in the habit of cutting across lots here, the board will put in two diagonal walks to accommodate such pedestrians, as well as to improve the appearance of this little breathing spot."

"The new postoffice with its well kept lawn and this little park will do much to improve South Sixth street."

In southeast Brainerd the board hopes to get a park site from one or more generous citizens owning land at that section of the city. Several have been approached on the matter and it seems to me that no man can have a better monument to keep his memory green and can show a greater public spirit than by donating some lots for park purposes. The donor's name, of course, would attach to the park."

Poor Farm Criticized

Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 9, 1911.

Editor of Daily Dispatch:—
Noticing in your paper a few days ago that the State Examiner had called the attention of the Board of County Commissioners to certain irregularities and to the enormous expense of keeping paupers at the poor farm, there is recalled to my mind a certain recommendation of the Grand Jury in the December term of the Crow Wing county district court in 1908 which is of some interest. These recommendations were filed in court and were published in the Brainerd newspapers at that time and read as follows:

"We, the Grand Jury of Crow Wing county, state of Minnesota, beg to submit to your attention certain letters and reports of the State Examiner dated July 25th, 1906, June 10th, 1907 and March 26th, 1908, on file in the county auditor's office, referring to certain matters and errors among those by which the school funds have lost large sums of money."

"We therefore respectfully recommend that disinterested examiners be appointed to examine the county records from the year 1896 up to the date of examination, an examination similar to the recent examination of the records of the City of Brainerd. We also recommend that the superintendent of the poor farm be required to give sufficient bonds as required by law."

W. H. ANDREWS,

Foreman of the Grand Jury,
S. E. ENGBRETSON,
Clerk.

I was a member of the grand jury at that time but all discussions we had, under the law, should not be given to the public; but we had these letters mentioned above before us and they are undoubtedly on file in the county auditor's office and they should be published by your paper in connection with this examination and they will be of interest reading to the taxpayers and citizens.

It appears that the county commissioners ignored these letters when they were received and ignored the recommendations of the grand jury at that time, although the school funds were supposed at that time to have been lost to the school districts, if I remember rightly, were about fifteen thousand dollars. It is two years since this matter by both the state examiner and the grand jury was so prominently brought to the attention of the county commissioners but nothing has been done so far as the public knows, to correct those errors and remedy the lax administration of public affairs. I have spoken personally during the last two years to different members of the county board so there is no excuse for ignoring the matter.

The public examiner, in his last report, which was published in your paper of January sixth, 1911, calls attention to a number of irregularities and then emphasizes the extravagance of the county in caring for the poor and if the state examiner was familiar with some of the methods used, as well as the figures shown in the court house, his criticism would be undoubtedly more severe. He says that the cost for keeping a pauper in this county is almost six hundred dollars a year, while the average for the whole state is only a hundred and seventy dollars a year, but the cost to us in keeping our poor is really a great deal more than six hundred dollars per annum because the county poor farm has been running from one thousand to three thousand dollars in the hole every year, as shown by figures in the county auditor's office. You should get the total of receipts and disbursements of the poor farm for each year. It would be interesting reading. And if the county commissioners could find out who have been in the habit of getting their cream supplies and hay and feed for their horses, and vegetables, etc., for their families, at the poor farm, it might be an item of interest.

How long would it take any private farmer to go into bankruptcy if he did his farming business on that system? And how long would taxpayers of this county stand for such extravagance and bad management? Now, none of our commissioners may ever have been criminally guilty in this matter, but if they cannot remedy and correct these matters and save the county money for legitimate expenses, they had better do as your newspaper suggested that the city councilmen should have done a few weeks ago when they could not agree upon the new electric light system—to step down and out and let somebody else have a hand at it. It is shown by the county books that the poor farm fund is in the hole over forty-two thousand dollars and all that can be credited against this is the cost of the farm which originally was four thousand dollars, and the costs of the new buildings and the care of an occasional pauper who was thrown upon the county for support. And the latter appears to have been kept account of and amounts to only seven thousand dollars total.

When the board has ignored the repeated criticism of the state examiner and the positive recommendations of the grand jury, I feel it my duty to bring this matter to the attention of the public by writing this article.

ITALIAN JEWS DIMINISH.

Total About Half That Shown in 1870 Census.

What has become of the Jewish population of Italy? The latest census indicates that there are no more than 170,000 Jews in that country.

In 1870 they numbered 300,000, and by the natural laws of increase, statisticians say, that number should now be about 50 per cent more. Striking decreases in the Jewish communities are noted in single cities, such as, for instance, Pisa, an ancient site of Hebraic learning.

This city had until comparatively recent times a considerable Jewish population, with famous schools and a great printing establishment of world-wide reputation, the property of the Jewish community, where the best editions of the Talmud and other works of Hebraic lore were produced. According to Dr. Bloch, the demand for works in Hebrew has declined so much of late years throughout the world that the printing establishment got into financial difficulties and has recently been taken over by the government, the result being that its purely Hebraic character has been lost.

A subscription is now being raised among Italian Jews for the production of a new prayer book, which will probably have to be printed in Russia or Germany. Dr. Bloch thinks that mixed marriages and conversions are responsible for the great decline of Jewry in Italy.

In the Line of Fire.
There lived and preached for many years in Rhode Island Elder George Champlin, a colored man, possessed of much common sense, knowledge of his brethren's virtues and failings and considerable wit. He had many devoted admirers among his own people, but some of them felt that his sermons were apt to be a little too personal and pointed. One gentle sister was asked to remonstrate with him and essayed to do so.

"Sister Lou Campton," said the elder firmly when she had made her plea, "when I am preaching I shoot right at de devil, and it's only when somebody gets between me and de mark he's liable to be hurt."—Youth's Companion.

Barring Out the Wolves.

Every Siberian village is surrounded by a big stockade some ten or fifteen feet in height. This erection is to prevent the sheep and cattle from wandering into the forests and so falling a prey to the wild animals which swarm therein. In addition to this each village makes common property of an enormous number of dogs of the wolfhound breed, which are kept for protection from the packs of wolves which, in winter, desperate with hunger, descend upon the villages. Such dogs are rightly prized and, though they belong to nobody in particular, are kept well fed and cared for. They are huge beasts, almost as savage as wolves themselves.—Argonaut.

WORST COLD BREAKS EASILY

In Just a Few Hours all Misery From a Bad Cold or the Grippe Will be Overcome

Nothing else that you can take will break your cold or end grippe so promptly as a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

The most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, stiffness, rheumatism pains and other distress begin to leave after the very first dose.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25 cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

World's Largest Ship Will Have Nine Full Decks

OF the building of ships there seems to be no end, and there likewise seems to be no limit to their size. Only a few years ago we were amazed at the gigantic Mauretania, which is 790 feet long and has a tonnage of 32,500. This was followed soon by the Olympic, 860 feet long, with a tonnage of 48,000. Now it is the Europa, and when she is completed she will have a total length of 880 feet and a tonnage of 50,000. The displacement of the Europa will be about 70,000 tons, enough to load a freight train forty-four miles long. She will have a beam of ninety-six feet, so her decks will be as broad as the average city street. She will have nine decks above the water line and will thus be a skyscraper afloat. Elevators will be used to carry the passengers up and down exactly as they are in hotels, office buildings and apartment houses.

The Europa will be able to carry 5,000 persons, the population of a small city. The ship will offer various accommodations to suit varied tastes.

COMPARISON OF SHIP'S LENGTH.

Besides the main dining saloon, there will be a grillroom, a tea room, a restaurant and even a bathhouse. There will be a complete telephone system connecting all staterooms and saloons, so that friends who may be quartered two or three city blocks from each other will be able to converse.

There will be a complete gymnasium on the Europa, and the Hamburg-American line boasts that an athlete will be able to cross the ocean without breaking training, even if he needs a running track, for even that will be supplied as well as a squash court, swimming pool and other requisites.

MOTOR BUS DISASTER.

Vehicle Runs Amuck In London Street and Kills Two.

The motor omnibus has added to the perils of life in London. These huge vehicles in general use throughout the British capital must be dodged, it seems, not only in the streets, but on the sidewalks. Londoners have learned to "time" them when crossing the crowded thoroughfares, and accidents have been infrequent.

But the other day one of the heavy automobiles suddenly left the course it was intended to follow, mounted the sidewalk opposite the Piccadilly hotel, killed two persons, seriously injured a third and carried away portions of the fronts of three shops before it was stopped. The accident was said to be due to the slippery condition of the pavement.

American cities have their troubles with autos, and even the country roads are dangerous, but so far the person who remains on the sidewalk has been comparatively safe. If the autos begin to use the sidewalks persons on foot will have to take to the roads.

Cuba's Silent Forests.
Silence reigns in the vast forests of Cuba. Says a traveler: "No beast crashes through the undergrowth, no bird sings in the branches, no wind sighs through the mighty tops. The living creatures of that world glance noiselessly through the air or glide stealthily through the heavy sound deadening verdure." Cuba has practically no song birds. They are merely gaudy creatures of the ballroom. She is happy also in having no venomous snakes and few pests of any sort.
